

Asian/Pacific Heritage Month

Across

- 5 Feng shui expert
- 6 This Sony device, invented in Japan in 1979, was the precursor to the ipod
- 8 Jeans, of Hindi/Urdu origin
- 9 Middle of nowhere, word derived from Tagalog (Philippines)
- 12 To yearn, word derived from Cantonese
- 14 Reads earthquake vibrations, invented in China during the Han Dynasty
- 16 Body art, word derived from Tahitian
- 18 Business magnate, term of Cantonese origin
- 19 Polynesian dance

Down

- 1 Checked fabric, borrowed from Malay into Dutch (gingang), and from Dutch into English
- 2 Type of mattress, word derived from Japanese
- 3 Vegetarian scholar rumored to favor the non-violent nature of chopsticks over knives
- 4 Slang for food, word derived from Cantonese
- 7 To sing along, derived from the Japanese, literally translated as "empty" + "orchestra"
- 10 Birthplace of the fortune cookie
- 11 Keep dry with this invention made in China between 386-532 A.D.
- 13 Lost? Try this device invented in China around 300 A.D.
- 15 "Head" of a group or a squad leader, word derived from Japanese
- 17 First brewed as a medicine around 2700 B.C. in China